I am Anita.

When I started my journey with Dream a+ Dream, as a participant in the After School Life Skills Programme through Sports I had no idea of the impact that it would have on me. Today after many years, having overcome many hurdles, I am happily married my families, wing to football, and a career - as a football coach.

This is my story. And the story of 200,000 other youngsters.

"I live with my family of four. My father is a drunkard and my mother works in a garment factory. I come from a family where gender bias is strong. I had learned to be a boy and I was treated like a boy. Playing a game like football, I completely unheard of. However, as I participated in the programme, I had the dream to become a football player and the better of me. This was not easy. Everyone around me, my family members, I were keen playing football. All the time I was talking to other girls in my community to join the programme. Despite the challenges I faced from my family and friends, I persisted with the aid of my facilitator."

LOOKING BACK TO MOVE FORWARD

At Dream a Dream, the urge to create impact of value resulted into a strategy that focussed on deepening impact. Our teams grew, our programmes were strengthened, and our reach broadened. We have covered critical milestones that have made us 'Stronger Together' in the last 3 years. As we reflect on these years with pride, we realise that this has paved the way for us to step into the future with confident strides.

"As each of us takes on the challenges that are inevitable with this kind of growth, I want all of us to always keep one thing in mind, and that is to make a commitment to always do high-impact, good quality work. Let us commit to never lose sight of the fact that we are in the business of people and our right to exist is based on our promise that we never make a compromise between scale and impact. The goals mean nothing, if lives they not change. So, let us commit to never becoming one of those who had to compromise for the sake of 'scale', but be the ones that have always stared blue in the eyes of reality."

Sushetha Bhat, Chief Operating Officer

Our programmes are designed on the 'Arc of Transformation' model developed in partnership with PYE Global. This creative meaningful engagement to facilitate profound shifts in learning that remains ingrained for life amongst participants.

Our strategy to build an ecosystem that recognizes the urgency of life skills and the need to prepare young people for the fast pace of change in the world, has led to the creation of 'Hubs'. These annual conference brings together teachers, educators, youth workers and school administrators to co-create solutions for life skills education ecosystem for young people.

DEEPENING IMPACT

Impact for us has not been just numerical goals but going deep into our work so that change is sustainable. Impact has been at the core of our programmes' approaches.

- ARC OF TRANSFORMATION
- THE PEOPLE PHILOSOPHY
- DREAM A DEAL ASSESSMENT SCALE
- THE TEACHER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME
- INNOVATION HUBS
- CHANGE THE SCHOOL

The People Philosophy at Dream a Dream has helped us bring ambition to under 125 year-on-year while keeping overheads low. Built on the values of trust, respect, ownership and fun, it has enabled people to make a commitment to feel bringing the change within the organization to what we then wish to see in society.

The lack of standardized tools led us to identify measures of assessing effectiveness of the skills programmes. In collaboration with Dream a Dream's Advisory Board member, Dr. Ann Hemingway from the UK, we developed the Dream Life Skill Assessment Scale (DLSAS). Today, the DLSAS is the gold standard measurement tool used to measure improvement in life skills among disadvantaged children.

The Teacher Development Programme works with teachers across schools, encouraging them to transform into caring and empathetic adults who can convert classrooms into a creative community.

At the centre of our After School Life Skills Programme and the Career Connect Programme is the child with whom we work directly. These programmes act as Innovation Hubs where we develop insights into the ever changing needs of today's youth.

"I was 17 when I began to work as a facilitator. Young people that I was recent to them, I was their friend, their mentor and I did not appreciate being taken lightly. But the one thing I had learnt from my life, and I learnt from these programmes, is perseverance is the fuel of challenges. So, I found my own ways to deal with challenges that I was perceived with my coaching. The true impact of my work did not dawn on me until parents of the children I coached began to inform me that they noted a change in their children's behaviour. That was the best proof of my accomplishment as a facilitator."

"I have always kept challenging myself. I even got the opportunity to become a certified football coach, by the All India Football Federation in Mumbai. Getting permission to travel at sleep so Mumbai for the first time was unbreakable at home. Finances were also a problem. But, I have learnt to find solutions to the hurdles I encountered and took a small step, my efforts were rewarded. I became I got the certificate. My life changed.
