EDUCATING AND EMPOWERING CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES

Greetings and happy holidays from the Ann Foundation Board and volunteers! We are pleased to report that two new projects have begun and are going strong while our existing projects in IELC Blind school, Bargur, orphanage in Dindigul and Samaritan Help Mission in Kolkata have been progressing smoothly and the efforts of our volunteers have helped enrich the personalities of the children at these schools.

English classes for 35 girls in Uttar Pradesh

Our most recent project for 2011 is in the remote village of Mijwan in Uttar Pradesh. In September, English classes began for 35 girls at this school. With the help of four teachers, the girls are improving their spoken English skills. They are also receiving motivational teaching through a personality development course to help them build self-confidence in a local culture that often overlooks the talents and potential of its young women. Thanks to the generous contributions of our donors and friends, the Foundation provided 35 English textbooks for these classes.

Online Classes in West Bengal

Another new project began in July 2011 in Sundarbans in West Bengal. This beautiful region includes some of India's greatest natural resources but is relatively undeveloped in terms of infrastructure. Maintaining quality education for the children is an ongoing challenge. However, making use of video conference and online classes, Ann Foundation is helping to provide basic English classes for 50 boys and girls. The project will be receiving ten new computers, funded in part by your generous donations.

2012 - A Positive Change

We have plans for 2012, not only to continue the rewarding work we've done over the years, but also to continue to identify areas where AF can support positive change; possibilities include Cameroon, Uganda, and Ukraine.

Thank you for your continued support and generosity. Together we bring hope for a better future to the children we serve.
