

RDOET
(HAO India)

Project	:	Education For 100 Girls In An Urban Slum In India (#5003)
Report on	:	“Right to Literacy” International Literacy Day – 8 th September
Summary	:	This project will enable girl children for provision of Literacy Material and some small Gifts for the children and to Motivate and create awareness on literacy to live in dignity as a human being.

The main aim behind starting a day on literacy was to spread awareness among individuals, communities and countries.

Literacy is a fundamental human right and the foundation for lifelong learning. It is fully essential to social and human development in its ability to transform lives. For individuals, families, and societies alike, it is an instrument of empowerment to improve one's health, one's income, and one's relationship with the world.

Importance of being a Literate:

Literacy is not only important to read and write but it leads to an overall more empowered society. Some of the reasons of importance of Literacy are:

- “Right to Literacy” is a human right and a means for personal empowerment.
- It is important for social development.
- A literate society is the core of developing a society free of poverty, child mortality, population growth, gender equality, peace and development.
-

RDOET IN ACTION:

RDOET (HAO India) distributed Books and literacy material to all the children in this identified area. Children were fed with special food and our team had spent good time with children, playing and even some small gifts were given as a token of celebration of International Literacy Day on 8th September 2012.

Children were very excited to receive the literacy material, and felt very happy for the good fellowship lunch and the most joyful thing children would love to receive is some gifts and candy. Children are very happy, to receive. All the parents extend their thankfulness to all our valued Donors of Globalgiving for their valuable support.

Thanking you for your kind support, without which these children would have not availed all these opportunities.

Dr.(Mrs). P. Usha Abraham
CEO, RDOET (HAO India).