Tree Planting

Green Care organises tree planting days in the water catchment areas of local villages throughout the Kumbo region. The trees are local species, grown from seeds in the Green Care nursery.

The aim is to:

- protect water catchments
- preserve local tree species
- provide a habitat for local wildlife

Green Care also supplies seeds to Kumbo Council and other interested individuals and groups.

Bird Watching

Green Care is undertaking a survey of bird species in and around the Shisong area. This will provide important information on the impacts of tree planting and agriculture on the local bird species.

- Green Care members have a growing expertise in identifying local birds

Contact Green Care to organise a bird watching trek, either for individuals and small groups.

Community Forest

Green Care is planting a Community Forest in Kovndzeen, near Shisong. Local communities can get involved by planting and conserving their own small patch of forest.

Green Care is looking for volunteers to help with:

- Tree planting
- Species inventories – trees, plants, birds and wildlife

Contact Green Care to volunteer or if your village wants to take part in the Kovndzeen project.

Sustainable Agriculture

Green Care provides training, support and workshops in many aspects of sustainable agriculture. There are demonstration sites around Shisong for activities including:

- Rapid yam set multiplication
- Modern bee keeping
- Cane rat domestication
- Conservation agriculture
- Tree domestication
- Fish farming
