TALIA AGLER GIRLS' SHELTER (TAGS)

Talia Agler Girls' Shelter is a project of the Centre for Domestic Training and Development (CDTD) which was initiated with funding from the Global Fund for Children to Reach, Rescue, Rehabilitate and Reintegrate girls in need. Working through 4 Rs, the CDTD engages with all partners intervening in girl child issues to identify and assist girls in need in Kenya. Using a multi sectoral approach, rescued girls access direct services appropriate for their recovery and social reintegration. The TAGS exists to provide temporary shelter and holistic care to girls pending the determination of their cases.

TARGET BENEFICIARIES

The shelter accepts disadvantaged adolescent girls of ages 10-24 who are in dire need of rescue, rehabilitation and reintegration. Priority will be given to girl victims of:

- Human Trafficking
- Child labour
- Forced Migration (Un Accompanied Minors)
- Sexual Abuse
- Domestic Violence

SERVICES OFFERED

At the shelter girls are provided with the following:-

- Basic Needs
- Accommodation
- Security
- Medical Care
- Legal Aid
- Psychosocial Support
- Basic Education
- Life skills
- Family tracing / reunion
