Office Move:

Our office has moved to Calle Blancos, From court building in Goicochea, 200 meters west and 75 meters North., Calle Blancos, San José, Costa Rica.

Office relocation allows us to be in a more accessible place because volunteers, companies and institutions can easily find the office.

Starts of tutoring sessions:

Tutoring sessions in El Triángulo began on February 16th. You can volunteer too! Come and help the children with their homework, help them study for an upcoming test, or simply help them reinforce some of the topics they're currently studying.

Tutoring itself, at the community center, starts at 10:30 am, but volunteers will meet at the office in Calle Blancos at 9:30am. The tutoring session will wrap up at 12:30pm.

Tutoring helps to keep children and young people in classes and improve their academic performance.

Christmas Campaign:

Once again, we were able to deliver on our promise to bring a smile to the children's faces for Christmas! In December 2012, thanks to the support of several different people, we presented each child in the communities of El Triángulo and Los Cuadros with a Christmas gift.

The joy and wonder was evident in the children's faces. Thanks to all the people that helped us reach this goal.

School Supplies Campaign:

School started again, and many of the children in the squatter settlements of El Triángulo and Los Cuadros de Guadalupe need your help.

Each child will receive a basic package consisting of 5 notebooks, 5 pencils, 1 geometry set, scissors, glue, a box of coloring pencils, a pencil sharpener, a pack of white letter-sized sheets of paper, and a pack of college ruled, letter sized sheets of paper.

Our goal is 300 basics packages!

Global Giving Goal:

We made it! We were able to raise over $5000 USD through Global Giving in December 2012, and we also reached the mark of a minimum of 40 donors by December 31st. This guarantees the foundation a year long spot on Global Giving for 2013

Boy with a Ball wishes to thank the fund rising team from the bottom of our hearts for this effort. The board, volunteers, global staff, Costa Rican staff, and, of course, the donors are the ones who made this possible. Thanks to everyone for such great team accomplishment.

Share this Project with everyone you know! Our next goal is to raise $10,000 USD, and we need as much help as we can get.
