

Social project against wild animal abuse, Bolivia (Latidos Silvestres)

Fundación Gaia Pacha

Project Description

From 2012 to the present, Gaia Pacha is also addressing the growing problem of trafficking and cruelty of wild animals in the department of Cochabamba. This project is educating people, especially youth & children, about the consequences of the market demand of animals in captivity.

Besides a photography contest endorsed by a prestigious art movement, the project is also trying to influence municipal policy making decisions.
