

Dear Mr. Anderson,

It is Kyoka Itami of the Sendai YMCA Kokusai Hotel Technical School. How about the summer in America? Have you been all right?

The life in the technical school begins in April and I can engage in detailed study until now about hotels in a different environment and can spend quality time every day. And I received practical training at the Grand Pacific Le Daiba of Tokyo for one and a half months until the other day. The life that I left the home for the first time got shaken up by a series of new things many times, despite homesickness I was able to accomplish it somehow many times. The experience of this summer is a big confidence builder for me. I came back to Sendai, and classes of the latter period are going to begin. I plan to begin a part-time job after the school festival. The job hunting begins in earnest from winter, too and busy day await, but I want to spend more substantial time every day while being thankful your support.

Please take good care of yourself.

Love,

Kyoka Itami
