

Dear Mr. Anderson

Hello. How are you? I am fine.

When you came to Japan, I was very happy to see you.

I couldn't speak English well, but you waited me while I was thinking. I was so sad not to speak English well. I'd like also to study English now.

School life for 2 years almost ends.

I could experience both fun things and spicy things. I learned importance of functions and difficulties of communication with customers during training periods. I believe I can work properly when I go out to society. I can use the skill.

I think there is no wasteful things in these 2 years.

Thank you very much for supporting me. Thank you.

Mami Shindo
