“One person can make a difference, and everyone should try.”- John F. Kennedy

Key Activities and Outcomes:

Children living in slum and street environments often face harsh and challenging conditions, especially during the winter months. Their limited access to proper clothing exacerbates the health risks posed by the cold, leaving them vulnerable to illness and discomfort.

This initiative provided more than just physical warmth—it sought to offer these children a sense of dignity, care, and the opportunity to experience the basic comforts that many take for granted. As part of this effort, we distributed essential winter clothing and food items to the children to shield them from the harsh winter weather. Each child received a package that included:

"Of all the forms of inequality, injustice in health care is the most shocking and inhumane."
– Martin Luther King Jr.

Key Activities and Outcomes:

Proper nutrition, coupled with effective medication, plays a critical role in the recovery journey for TB patients. Yet, for many, the financial burden of obtaining protein-rich, nutritious food makes recovery an uphill battle. This year, we provided monthly nutrition food packets to 32 TB patients, including MDR and XDR cases.

These beneficiaries, predominantly daily wage workers, laborers, painters, marginal farmers, and mine workers, face immense socio-economic challenges that hinder their access to essential health resources. The nutrition food packets provided by RSKS India contain essentials such as soybeans, eggs, rajma, oats, black gram, promoting a healthy and speedy recovery for these patients.

RSKS India went beyond merely distributing food packets. Our team:

- Conducted regular health monitoring to track the progress of patients until recovery.
- Educated patients and their families about the importance of nutrition in combating TB.
- Collaborated with local health workers to ensure proper adherence to TB medication.

"The greatest wealth is health." – Virgil
