

From: AlertDC <conf-1902287028@everbridge.net>
Date: January 27, 2016 at 6:43:13 AM EST
To: anonymous@gmail.com
Subject: Hypothermia alert remains activated
Reply-To: AlertDC <conf-1902287028@everbridge.net>

This is an important message from the District of Columbia AlertDC system.

DHS reports the hypothermia alert will remain activated. The National Weather Service reports current temperature is 40 degrees, wind chills of 30-32 degrees, with light precipitation in the form of sprinkles or brief rain spurts but no snow.

Hypothermia season has begun. When the actual or forecasted temperature, including wind chill, is 32 degrees or below, the District issues a Hypothermia Alert. To request shelter transport for DC residents who are homeless and on the street now, contact the Shelter Hotline at uposh@upo.org, (202) 399-7093, 211, or 1-800-535-7252 (toll-free from a pay phone).

Click Here to update your profile.