Nonprofit charity dedicated to helping poor, struggling children in China to continue their basic Education!

Hometown Education Foundation (HEF) was started in 2004 by Professor Tonghai Yang to support children who are in danger of dropping out of school because their impoverished families cannot afford the mandatory school and books fees. We currently support close to 700 needy students every year.

Many students have lost working family member(s) to diseases or in accidents. Others have family member(s) with disabilities or severe chronic diseases – burdened with major medical bills. Many stories are like that of Baofeng's, detailed below.

Baofeng Zhu is a 14 year old girl whose mother is handicapped and father has serious stomach problems. Due to double unemployment and massive medical debts, her family is very poor and unable to afford Baofeng's education.

A little support goes a long way to help these students establish a basic educational background for brighter and better futures. This is where we need YOUR help.

$60+ – the amount an elementary school student needs to remain in school for a year.

$100 - the amount a middle school student needs to remain in school for a year.

$200 - the amount a high school student needs to remain in school for a year.

Donation of any amount is greatly appreciated. Sponsorship is more than welcome.

Shop online starting at our website to benefit the poor kids. We can get up to 9% of the proceed (from three sources) while it is free to you.

100% of your donation goes directly to these needy students. Your contribution is also tax deductible.

You can make contributions online at the HEF website via PayPal, or send your donation (payable to HEF) can be mailed to:
