

The Prabhudas Pattni Relief and Welfare Program

December 2015,

Equal Africa, the former Kenya Society for the Mentally Handicapped, through this project continued to provide crucial services to vulnerable groups who include among others; the orphans/vulnerable children who are rejected and later abandoned by their families for having mental and/or severe disabilities, persons with terminal illnesses and the very needy elderly persons.

These services are not provided by the government upto date and are completely unaffordable in the private sector by these vulnerable groups.

Your continued generous support has made it possible to keep these vulnerable persons in a better condition in terms of food, medication and other essential facilitation. Many lives have been and continue to be changed positively due to your immense contribution.

*Mr Samuel, one of the beneficiaries has seen a lot of improvement in his health, he continues to have monthly hospital checkups and monitoring as well as receiving his monthly medication. He is very thankful to you and said "I live in poverty, thought I would not see the New Year but am here now and much better. I want to thank Equal Africa and more so, the kind people who continue to contribute their time and resources so that other lives can be better"

Another Success story is that of Peter a boy living with disability at Compassionate children home. Peter has a condition known as hydrocephalus and was in pain when we visited last. We put him in the vehicle and took him straight to the hospital. He has since recuperated and as much, this was made possible by your donation.

Equal Africa has also continued with distribution of essential food items for the very needy elderly persons in Kangemi area who have been in much suffering and receiving no subsidies from the government.

Below is a breakdown of activities that your contribution has enabled Equal Africa to undertake in the month of December:

- i) Purchase of very basic and essential food items for their daily meals.*
- ii) Purchase of vital materials that assisted them to easily manage their toiletries and personal hygiene.i.e diapers.*
- iii) Cash donations that helped their housemothers and volunteers to provide daily support that enables them live with dignity.*
- iv) Provision of transport and cash donations for their emergency medical treatment in government clinics and helped in the purchase of their prescribed medication.*
- v) Assistance to some of the families that look after their bedridden people in the purchase of essential food and materials that they require to give daily help.*
- vi) Purchase of prescribed life saving medication for 5 terminally ill persons who are extremely poor and unable to afford their medication.*
- vii)Purchase of essential food items for the very needy elderly persons in Kangemi slums*

Other efforts by our officials of mobilising donations and other essentials that are needed in the remaining charitable homes and institution still continue.

We wish to thank our local donors and all other people of goodwill for continuing to touch the lives of these very needy people in a special way.

In this report, we have included the income and expenditure report together with pictures of activities implemented by Equal Africa in the month of December 2015.
