Team Children,

Hello, my name is Brittany Galanti. I am a case manager at Central Behavioral Health and I am working with a client who is in desperate need of a laptop. My client comes from a family of five, her eldest sister passed away several years ago and she has multiple nieces and nephews. She and her brother attend Norristown Area School District and are in the 8th and 10th grades, both have individualized education plans due to their learning disabilities and emotional needs. Their father has been in a nursing rehabilitation center for almost a year recovering from two amputated legs. My client is heavily involved in the community and her school. She strives to do her best academically and socially. She has a goal of going to college to study criminal justice and become a lawyer. A laptop would support my client in applying for places of employment, scholarships for college, and schoolwork completion. She will be advancing to her junior year of high school where the academic expectations will be more challenging. My client is an intelligent student with the potential to succeed; however, she is limited due to her family's financial situation. This opportunity would allow her the ability to achieve her future goals. Thank you for considering this family for this opportunity.

Thank you,

Brittany Galanti, BA
