*Empowering Women
through appropriate technology in harmony with the environment*

VISION

KATAKUS envisions a society where women and men decide and act collectively in building empowered communities and in working for the sustainability of the environment amidst the pressures of a globalized economy.

MISSION

KATAKUS is a non-profit organization that promotes the practice of sustainable agriculture with gender perspective among the subsistence farming communities in Region XI for the improvement of their food security and livelihood and the enhancement of the environment.

GOALS

- ❖ To enhance food security through conversion from monoculture to diversified and integrated farming systems;
- ❖ To conserve and sustainably use indigenous resources through the development and innovative use of appropriate technologies;
- ❖ To increase household income through collective and individual on-farm and off-farm enterprises;
- ❖ To facilitate marketing of community products;
- ❖ To build and strengthen women's leadership and their community organizations; and
- ❖ To forge partnerships with and access resources from government and non-government organizations.
