European premiere at the Caux Forum in Switzerland

The film was premiered to an audience of 120 people from over 50 countries in July at the 2017 Caux Forum focused on developing human potential for global change. An initial batch of 50 DVD copies were made available for participants.

Project Budget

All of the raised funds were instrumental in finalizing the documentary. A second batch of 500 DVD copies have been ordered and will be available in October.

Next Steps and Future Developments

We look forward to start the distribution of 500 DVD copies to the lofC global network and beyond to all those interested via lofC online eShop during October and November.

We have also initiated consultations with several supporters who will join our efforts in providing the documentary in French, Spanish, German, Japanese, Portuguese and Arabic.

Continuous support

Please support our efforts to make this inspiring documentary available in as many languages as possible and make the lifework and peace-making legacy of Frank Buchman known more widely.

Your online donations via this GlobalGiving crowdfunding link will help immensely!
