

Success Factors

❖ Community Involvement

The Blanfla community was very supportive of the service project. They provide tools, participants for the work, feed all the participants during their stay in the community. Each participant individually stayed with a family - this increased community interest for the work that was doing and allowed the participants to learn directly about the local culture.

❖ Project so far...

The community was highly involved in the project. There are no doubts that the work will continue given the materials. At this first step, the foundation of the canteen is laid down and blocks are raised. In October, the canteen will be covered. The hole of the toilets is dugged.

❖ Participants Commitment

1. The GPM transformed the participants. The volunteers from the Campus Corps of Bouafle High School are more than motivated to continue working alongside the community to achieved the project and recruit others students to get involve in SFP.
2. The SFP staff from Ghana was empowered and one participant who is the Campus Corps's President of Cape Coast University in Ghana promised to work promotes service at the University.
3. The participants from US and Europe decided to promote SFP in their respective countries. The US participants expressed their excitement to raise funds for the project and recruit volunteers from now on. One of the US participants leaving in Queens, NY would like to establish a Campus Corps in her School. A promotional video of the project will be done by another US participant to raise funds and get supplies for children of the School.
