Community Health Division (CHD) Touching Two Million Lives

Distances to medical facilities coupled with high costs often excludes a large number of the poor and marginalized from accessing good quality health care.

The Community Health Division (CHD) of the Bangalore Baptist Hospital (BBH), began its operations in 1975. CHD's mission is to bring relief – physical, socio-economic and psychological and make a difference in the lives of the poorest and most vulnerable groups in rural villages and urban slums. Since its inception, CHD has spread its wings to reach out to over 900 villages in Bangalore Rural District and 12 slums in Bangalore city. Through its basket of services, CHD has been able to reach out and serve over 60,000 persons annually.
