'CAMPAIGN TO KEEP NEEDY GIRLS IN SCHOOL'

Because of poverty, many school young girls in Uganda lack sanitary pads to protect themselves during their menstruation period. Besides the fact that some girls are orphans or extremely needy, many semi-privileged families find sanitary pads a luxury and food a priority. This thus leaves our girls with no option but to either use banana leaves, newspapers, mattress stuff or miss class to avoid shame, discomfort, isolation and embarrassments.

This campaign thus, is an initiative determined to respond. Through this activity, we serve as a resource to benefit and keep the needy girls in schools by providing them with sanitary kits that help them concentrate in class during their menstruation period. Please help!
