

ANNUAL REPORT FOR YEAR 2016

Mission statement: to ensure a cancer-free African woman through provision of cancer awareness services, support, research and collaboration.

Foreword

With deep sense of accomplishment, it is our joy at WOCAPSS-Africa that we produced the maiden edition of our annual report after an eventful year 2016. We have witnessed tremendous growth and some setbacks as well but in all, we have moved steps ahead. We have strengthened our managerial ability as well as human resource and project management skills. From here, it is clear we can only improve on existing feats and break more grounds ahead, WOCAPSS-Africa have come to stay and help in the fight against cancers in African women.

ABOUT US

WOCAPSS-Africa is a registered Non-Governmental, Not-for-profit, population health-based organization committed to ensure cancer-free African women through improved awareness about female cancers and their preventive modalities and to facilitate early detection, prompt and efficient diagnosis and treatment, support for cancer patients as well as collaboration and research for efficient cancer control among African women. The organization is boastful of passionate volunteers consisting mostly doctors, Nurses, laboratory scientists and other professionals. It is a young but versatile organization with sound technical know-how of the problems we are combating and appreciable experience in cancer prevention work.

OUR OBJECTIVES IN BRIEF

- i. Ensure delivery of vital messages to the African woman on various measures to prevent development of peculiar women cancers, including; breast, cervical, ovarian, endometrial, and fallopian tube cancers
- ii. To reduce the incidence of female cancers through awareness, advocacy, and support.
- iii. To act as pressure group to persuade governments, organizations and individuals to provide better facilities for cancer treatment.
- iv. To provide support; physically, psychologically and financially to the African woman who develop any of these cancers in order to ensure prolongation of life or at least a happy end of life.
- v. To engage in groundbreaking and highly informative researches to provide more information for the population, and to assist data gathering to enhance policy formulation.
- vi. To collaborate with other advocacy groups, governments, individuals, corporate bodies and various researchers and research groups to advance the service to humanity.

NEW COLLABORATIONS

The Organization looks forward to key collaborations in areas of media, social and corporate relationship. Important health institutions and research centers are also being sought to improve on service delivery to the Nigerian women through partnership in key areas of preventive and supportive health services.

HOPE FOR THE COMING YEAR

By His Grace and unrelenting efforts of WOCAPSS-Africa volunteers, we are weathering the storms and gradually becoming a reputable brand in the field of cancer prevention among our women. Through our latest expansions and recruitment of more volunteers, and more especially the establishment of our Board of Trustees, we look forward to a year of swift development, improved visibility and unprecedented impact on the health of our women.

*WOCAPSS-Africa is a Pan-African organization by design, we anxiously look forward to being the brand we want and the change we wanted; ensuring a cancer-free African woman

APPRECIATION

We appreciate God Almighty and the people who believed in our vision and trusts what we can do.

We thank the few who believed we are worth their time and expertise; our esteemed Volunteers.

We thank the very few who believed we are worth spending their earnings on; individuals and corporate bodies.

And also we thank those who are proud to associate with us and the values we stand for.
