

My name is Awa. Since joining AGILE, I have learned to think differently. I was married at age of 16, and I have been married twice already. Neither marriage worked, nor did I complete my education. For my daughter, I insist that she does not get married under age and that she completes her education before getting married