Dear Donors

All these months we have been working day in and day out with each of the farming families.

The prosperity of the families is focused on improving their housing and food, making their businesses fair and sustainable, and improving their soils, air quality and water availability by planting trees.

Their homes are improving, being clean and tidy, smoke-free, with walls tiled and painted, many of them with their future plan on the walls of a special place in their homes, as well as establishing bio-gardens with vegetables and fruit trees to improve their nutrition; making their existing businesses or innovating new businesses sustainable and with fair prices; and recovering their soils, air and water quality of their environment and the planet by planting trees.

The improvement of the economy is focused on improving and innovating their businesses or starting new ones, such as guinea pig breeding, beekeeping, pasture management, actions to improve the production of dairy cows, the production of dairy products, rich cheese and yoghurt, better practices for the production of sheep, alpacas.

In the communities they have been taking care of every plant in the nurseries, preparing for the rainy season and the beginning of the 2022-2023 forestation campaign; they are establishing in their Community Assemblies as a space for decision making, the formation of the Forestry Committees who will watch over the care and maintenance of the planted trees.

The inter-learning internships to the successful Granja Porcón in Cajamarca and to the successful communities and families in Cusco have been fundamental for the families to identify themselves and see the potential they have for their future.

The internships bring the enthusiasm of what they have learned; the families who participated arrive in their communities, and organise community assemblies with the support of our coordinator to replicate all the knowledge acquired to the other families and transmit to them the excitement of learning, proposing what they can do and getting down to work.

We continue to establish an atmosphere of trust and dialogue between the community authorities and the families of the communities, and the Pachamama Raymi team, this relationship is very important for the sustainability of the families.
