

The Future of Education

Thanks to your investment in our program, the Refugee Educator Academy has offered three webinars engaging educators across four continents since March 2018. We have developed a summer pilot course and have conducted extensive training and customization of our platform and technological tools used to design and reach our teachers. Your support has allowed us to refine our framework based on feedback from users and learners in the field.

Your investment has allowed us to create a solid foundation upon which we can engage teachers globally and better prepare them to reach students from different backgrounds. These teachers will be more knowledgeable in how to address social-emotional issues in the classroom that impact every child's ability to learn. This means that educators will be engaged with their peers in a collaborative dialogue that addresses student challenges as they arise. And for the students, this means that students are engaged in a meaningful and intentional way that is designed to improve learning and social outcomes.

Because of your support of the Refugee Educator Academy, we have been able to accomplish all of this in the past three months. Thank you for supporting our work and investing in the future of education.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Diana D. Woolis".

Dr. Diana D. Woolis, Director