The pandemic that Mexico and the world is going through due to COVID-19, has brought families to adapt to a new way of coexistence, to learn new forms of communication, to cope with the frustration, anger, sadness and stress that it results from long periods of time at home. In this context, Casa PAS has taken on the task of maintaining comprehensive care for families through phone calls and video calls, seeking to mitigate as much as possible the situation they live in and supporting educational support so that girls and boys continue their studies. from distance.
