REPORT

JULY - AUGUST 2026

MAKING
MAD HISTORIES
MAKING OPPORTUNITIES

Vision health is a key factor in enabling older adults to maintain their independence, safety, and quality of life. A decline in vision can make it difficult to perform such important activities as walking, getting around, recognizing their surroundings, socializing with others, and carrying out daily tasks without relying on someone else.

During July and August, ACREC expanded its care initiatives for older adults with various vision-related needs. Through eye exams, specialized tests, and appropriate medical care, the organization was able to identify and treat a range of conditions in a timely manner—conditions that, if left untreated, could have significantly impacted their well-being.

Timely diagnosis and treatment help prevent complications and reduce risks, particularly those related to falls and accidents at home. By regaining or maintaining adequate vision, beneficiaries can carry out their daily activities with greater confidence and maintain greater independence within their homes and communities.

The results achieved during this period reflect the value of bringing specialized eye care services to those who need them most. Eye care helps improve vision and promotes independence, safety, emotional well-being, and social integration among older adults.

Through these initiatives, ACREC reaffirms its commitment to providing comprehensive, dignified, and accessible care to people in vulnerable situations. Thanks to the collaboration of our partners and the support of our donors, we continue working to ensure that more people have the opportunity to access quality eye care services and can live with greater safety, independence, and well-being.

Accec

Throughout July and August, at ACREC we continued to strengthen our efforts to promote eye health among older adults. During this period, 33 people underwent eye surgery, giving them a new opportunity to go about their daily lives with greater confidence and independence.

For many of our beneficiaries, vision impairment can become a barrier to performing simple daily activities. Activities such as preparing meals, moving around the home, reading, recognizing family members, or leaving the house can become difficult when vision is impaired.

The care provided aims to reduce these limitations and create better conditions so that each person can continue with their daily life. The results of these procedures represent significant progress not only from a medical standpoint but also in terms of the confidence and independence of those who received care.

This work is made possible by the combined efforts of our team, collaborators, partners, and individuals who choose to support our cause. Every donation helps us provide specialized care to older adults who face difficulties accessing eye care services.

At ACREC, we remain committed to using available resources responsibly, ensuring that every contribution we receive has a real impact on the lives of our beneficiaries. Our goal is to continue expanding access to care and help more people maintain their independence and well-being.

We thank everyone who makes this work possible. Your support translates into care, opportunities, and hope for those who need it most.

We will continue working to ensure that regaining vision also means regaining confidence, autonomy, and the ability to fully enjoy life.

With our sincerest thanks,
The ACREC Team

Carta de una mujer de la tercera edad sola

Soy la Señora Norma, soy mujer sola desde hace muchos años, 25 años aproximadamente, me dedico al oficio de empleada doméstica, no tengo hijos, ni familiares, mi amiga me ayuda en lo que puede, sin embargo, sé que mi amiga tiene sus necesidades personales. Me puse muy triste y solté en llanto cuando me dijeron que nuevamente, por la decisión necesitaba una cirugía más, me sentí preocupada por mi ojo y por la posibilidad de no poder pagar mi cirugía.

Gracias infinitas por su generosidad, hoy puedo ver mejor con mi ojo y puedo seguir con mis actividades diarias sin depender nuevamente de alguien. Les estaré siempre agradecida por esta obra de generosidad.

de antemano gracias nuevamente por su tiempo en leerme.

Letter from an Elderly Single Woman.

My name is Mrs. Norma. I have been a single woman for many years—approximately 25 years—and I work as a domestic worker. I have no children or relatives; my friend helps me as much as she can, but I know she has her own personal needs. I became very sad and burst into tears when they told me that, for the second time, I needed another surgery; I was worried about my eye and about not being able to afford the surgery. Thank you so much for your generosity. Today I can see better with my eye and can continue with my daily activities without having to depend on anyone else again.

I will always be grateful to you for this act of generosity.

Thank you again in advance for taking the time to read this.

Sincerely, Norma.

I am very grateful for your support, as it will be a great help to me. Due to a detached retina in my left eye, I have stopped working for now, and I have taken out a loan so I can have my surgery. God willing, if my surgery goes well, I will be able to continue working.

I bid you farewell with my deepest gratitude. May God bless your generosity, so that you may continue to support more people in need.

For Global Giving Donors

Ms. Liboria, I am 62 years old and I take care of my home. Two years ago, I began to lose my vision, which has prevented me from carrying out my daily activities, such as cooking for myself. On some occasions, I've even burned parts of my body, though not seriously. I've become more dependent on others, which sometimes makes me feel bad because I interrupt their own activities—it's a daily struggle.

Today, I'd like to thank Global Giving for covering the cost of surgery on my right eye.

Sincerely,

Liboria
