The Plight of 'Fani' cyclone in Community, Odisha

Cyclone Fani wreak havoc on the lives of Odisha. 'Fani' (pronounced as Foni), the tropical cyclone made landfall on the coastal areas of Odisha on 3rdMay 2019. It was intensified into extremely severe cyclone and one of the rarest of rare summer cyclone which was hit Odisha coast . This was the strongest storm to hit Odisha with wind speed greater than 200mph. Efforts made by Govt. of Odisha along with NGO's and other agencies have successfully evacuated people to safer places to save their life.

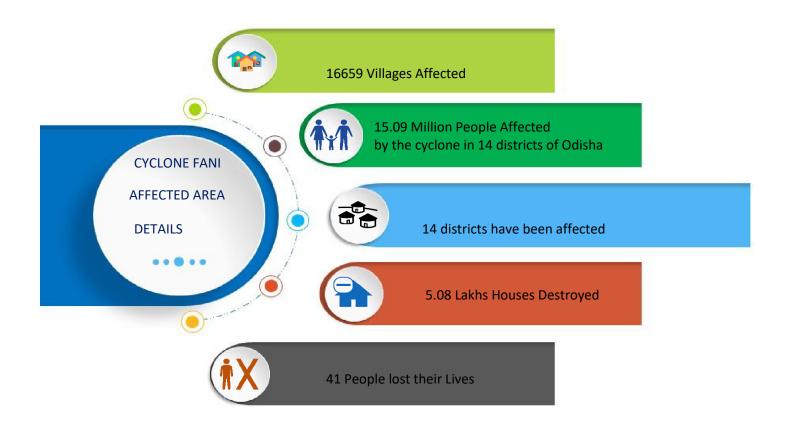

The coastal area mainly Puri, Cuttack, Bhubaneshwar and Paradeep were devastated. The district of Puri was the worst hit and the destruction was very unimaginable. There has been major damage to houses, crops, uprooting trees, electric poles and mobile towers and the storm tearing off many roofs. Power lines were down, roads were inaccessible, electricity and communications got affected badly. Power supply snapped due to uprooting of electricity poles, damage of substations and transmission lines. Telecom towers The cyclone has damaged almost all the kuccha houses, polythene roofed houses, tin and asbestos roofed houses in the area and made more than 60% families homeless. Coconut orchards have been devastated. Sanitary and hygiene conditions were extremely poor in the affected slums as toilets have been collapsed and damaged. Drinking water sources have been heavily contaminated in urban and rural areas, even the village ponds have fallen trees. Families have lost their household belongings (clothes, utensils, food grains etc) under the collapsed houses. They had been deprived of food, clothes and drinking water since days. Children have lost their study materials like their books, notebooks, pen, pencils and other things have been crushed into pieces. Many school buildings has damaged in this cyclone. It affects education for children.

After cyclone, when the evacuated people returned to their houses, they found huge devastation and loss of almost everything. Only they could save their lives. Then they started to find their livestock dead or alive but they were almost dead.

Due to the loss of livelihood, there is chance for people migrating to other place to search of other jobs for earning and this could severely affect children and women. The most vulnerable section of the affected community includes the women, children, the elderly people and the persons with disability. In many places electricity restored but still some village are in dark. Renovation work is going on to back to life.

Their houses are totally or partially collapsed. Affected people of the villages are still facing hardship as they have lost many things. Electric supply is not restored still in this area.
