

Saving one life at a time...

Thanks to the contribution of many different helping hands around the world, 55 Colombians, who have suffered amputations and several injuries due to the devastating aftermath of antipersonnel landmines and other explosive, received medical treatment, and physical and psychological rehabilitation.

These Colombians now have a new opportunity in life to return back into society with hope and dignity. These beneficiaries started a new path towards a promising educational future, such as enrolling in basic training programs in primary and secondary education, as well as attending technical training courses and professional studies at local Universities. By acquiring these skills, our beneficiaries will be better equipped to succeed in socio-economic programs and labor reintegration processes.

These are some of the happy faces...

Jesus Bastidas
28 years old

Alexander Bernal
27 years ols

Carlos Amaya
11 years old

Luis Albeiro Cuero
16 years old

Lina Angulo
6 years old

Yoemis Romero
22 years old

Emilio Pacheco
18 years old

Emilsen Tabaco
18 years old

Angie Trespalacios
10 years old

Elvis Ruiz
21 years old

Carlos Cavadia
29 years old

Leonardo Varón
30 years old

Disneda Gonzalez
18 years old

Edwin Matiz
17 years old

Luz Emérita Ortiz
18 years old

Aurelio Clavijo
15 years old

Camilo Marín
5 years old

Jhon Mendoza
24 years old