

DIRT GIRLS!!!!!!!

Ms. Carrie is the school garden teacher for Pueblo Vista Magnet School. “My favorite thing about teaching Dirt Girls is providing the opportunity for girls to work independently in the garden.” said Ms. Carrie. “I went to Pueblo Vista because I love environmental sciences & Dual Immersion.” Ms. Carrie has her own booth at the Farmers Market & is very creative. She has even done the unknown, making straightening fun. She has came up with games like catchweed tag which is where you throw catchweed at other players then they throw it into the compost bin. Ms. Carrie helps the girls interact with nature in a very understandable and reasonable, amazing and creative way that the girls really understand & respect. She is very understanding and is there for the girls when they need it. She does what she can to help nature in a way that the girls understand & are able to help with. Like Girl Scout’s, Ms. Carrie tries to make Dirt Girls mostly Girl led. So if you approve of Girl Scout’s, you will be sure to like Dirt Girls. Dirt Girls even goes on field trips that are really fun. And when you buy from Dirt Girls at the Farmers Market, you are raising money for something sort of like a Take action project in Girl Scouts. Sometimes they do donations to the animal shelter or you raise money so that the girls can go on a short field trip so that they can learn new things.
