

Introduction

The number of disabled people in Yemen is increasing day by day, reaching more than 92 thousand people according to the report of the National Union of Persons with Disabilities and local and international organizations, and most of the disabled in Yemen suffer from their inability to obtain the minimum rights that enable them to integrate in society and exercise their life activities Easily due to the economic situation in the country, these conditions have led to the deprivation of many disabled people, especially children, from the most basic elements of living such as access to adequate food and receive treatment and natural and appropriate medical care and their inability to obtain education The appropriate command, which will contribute to the deterioration of their health and the lack of proportion of their ability to improve and integrate them in society in the future.

Kamaran Foundation for Development and Humanitarian Work (Kdh) is concerned with the disabled people and has contributed earlier to support some centers for the disabled, the most important of which was the founding of Reham Center for Rehabilitation and Care of the Disabled in Hajjah governorate, which had a role in treating the physically and mentally handicapped people from Hajjah governorate as well as those from other governorates. It is worth mentioning that the center has provided free physical therapy for 1100 physically and mentally disabled people from the date of its establishment in 2014 to the present day and has done 13212 therapeutic sessions in 2018. There are many success stories of cases coming to the center and became able However, the situation in the country has played a major role in reducing services in the center where the center has become unable to continue to provide better services due to the lack of support to cover operating expenses, which led to a shortage of existing staff and deterioration of the state of the services. The number of arrivals to the center, especially those displaced from conflict areas, has led to many problems that may lead to its closure.

Based on the needs assessment carried out by the Kamaran Foundation for Development and Humanitarian Work (Kdh) at the Physiotherapy Center for the disabled in Hajjah, it was noted that 88% of the disabled in the governorate suffer from difficulty accessing the center to receive physiotherapy due to the high poverty rates among them. They have access to basic life needs such as food and health care.

Project Objective:

This project aims to help physically and mentally disabled children in Hajjah governorate to obtain physiotherapy by providing basic needs that will enable them to receive physical therapy for six months without hindrance and to ensure that they have access to continuous physical therapy without interruption.
