WHY BACK TO SCHOOL?

According to UNICEF more than 13 million Children in Nigeria are out of school .One in every five of the worlds out of school children are in Nigeria. Even though primary and secondary education is officially free and compulsory, about 10.5 million of children aged 5- 14 years are not in school, only 61 percent of 6-11 year olds regularly attend primary school and only 35.6 percent of children aged 36-59 months receive early education. In Sub Saharan Africa only one country send more than half of its children to secondary School.

It is therefore no surprise that in Sub Saharan Africa, 48% of Children who do not complete primary school are forced to begin their lives without the preparation of a basic education.

Over the past two years of working in underserved communities we have come across a huge gap in education which has unmasked education inequities and because a greater percent of Children has been denied the basic right to quality education there has been an increase in social vices such as, rape, cultism etc.

PROJECT OUTCOME

This Project advocates for education to be prioritized and targets children who are least likely to receive an education. The expected outcome of the program is that all children access quality education gaining the skills and knowledge for lifelong learning. It is also aimed at easing the suffering of 1000 children Rivers state by supporting children from less privileged families with schoolbags, school uniform, text books and stationeries

Through our partnership with various reputable organization and individuals through a range of initiatives we have provided educational materials, sponsorship and psychosocial support to over 300 children in remote communities.

We believe through Partnerships with organizations and socially responsible individuals we will build a sociable, scalable and impactful educational foundation for the Nigerian child.

STRATEGIC PLAN
