

BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN TALENT AND OPPORTUNITY GLOBALLY

HOW ATLAS CORPS IS BUILDING TOMORROW'S GLOBAL LEADERS TODAY

Atlas Corps recognizes that there is hidden talent around the world, and we are committed to empowering social change leaders while building democracy across borders. We develop leaders and strengthen organizations through leadership programs, cultural awareness, education, and networking to organizations engaged in global workforce mobility – creating a global alumni community of skilled social change professionals.

OVERVIEW

The programs that we offer empower emerging leaders around the world in growing their skills and expanding their commitment to democratic values while supporting the needs of global organizations. These skills, coupled with the core values of service to a global community and respect for diversity, help leaders to realize their fullest potential in whatever path they choose to follow in this new age of global connectedness.

Atlas Corps has two key programs: the Virtual Leadership Institute (VLI), which teaches leadership skills to Scholars working locally to implement social impact projects; and the Global Leaders Fellowship, which grows emerging global leader Fellows through Fellowships in US-based organizations.

"Atlas Corps values the full exchange of ideas and working as global citizens and puts focus on not only what Fellows get out of the experience, but also what the Host Organizations can learn from Fellows."
