 During the last few months, we have focused our efforts on addressing fundamental issues that go beyond the classroom, achieving an exciting response from our students.

 The themes "Ayudémonos a Amar" and "Amémonos con Esmero" have become the main axes of our activities. We address fundamental emotions, from the awakening of "The Surprise" to the understanding of "The Anger".

Vocational workshop:

Following the guiding thread of our themes, we open the doors to a universe of artistic possibilities. During two weeks full of inspiration and creativity the holiday workshop was held, clay, painting, origami, zumba, dance and recreational-sports activities became channels for personal expression and connection.

Each shared laugh and each creative stroke fueled an atmosphere of camaraderie and fraternity. Closing the workshop with the celebration of the birthdays of the children who turned in the first semester of the year.

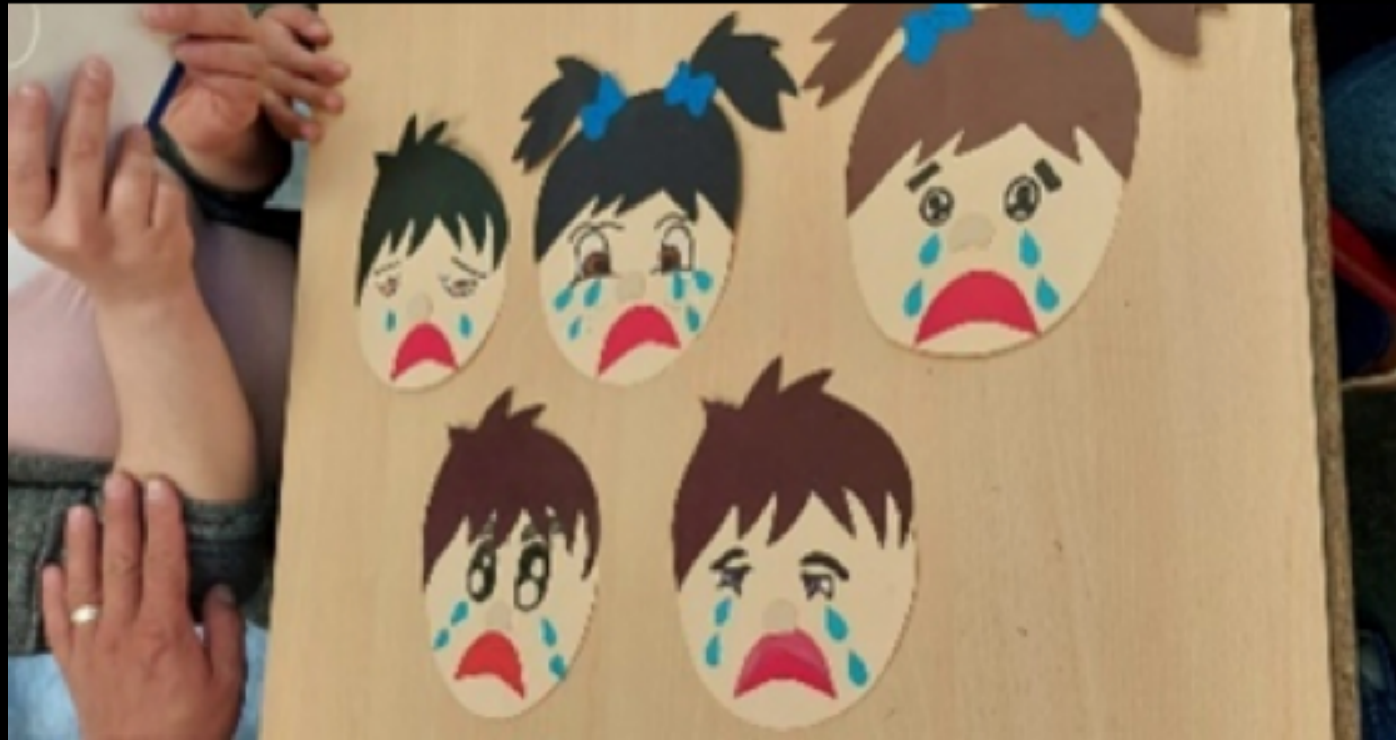

Children's day:

A day full of laughter and shared emotions. Through bingo, each child received a toy, the result of the generosity of so many people.

Training Program for Affectivity and Sexuality:

We continue with the training program aimed at boys and girls from 4 to 8 years of age and their parents, the objective is to promote the harmonious development of the person in all its dimensions.

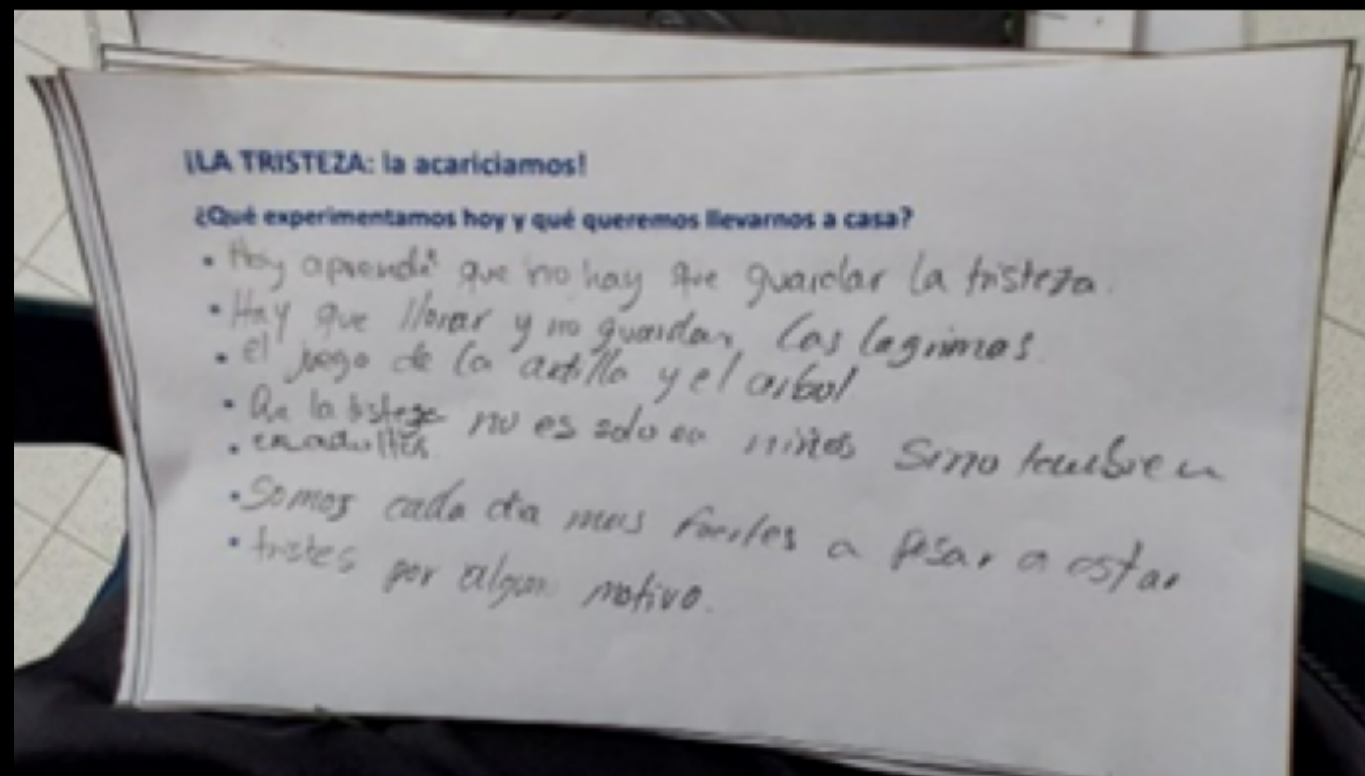

June workshop "Anger, we hear it" and July workshop "Sadness, we caress it"

During this day, parents and children shared the experiences that arose as a result of the activity assigned in the previous session.

Their enthusiasm and commitment to continue participating were clearly manifested, reflecting a genuine interest in gaining a better understanding of emotions and learning strategies for their management within the family environment.

This collaborative attitude undoubtedly contributes significantly to strengthening the ties between all members of our community.
