

Dear Friends,

2021 marks 10 years since I won the Nobel Peace Prize. After winning the Prize, I committed to giving back to Africa by sending girls to school.

On this journey, I continue to see firsthand that educating the next generation of leaders is more than just paying school fees. It is about investing in the whole person: providing for their basic needs and more.

To celebrate my 10th anniversary, I invite you to join the "Dollar for Peace" campaign to reach 1 million people and raise $1 million for education and peacebuilding in Liberia.

TOTAL EXPENDITURE SINCE 2012

US$ $2,414,066.35

US$ 1,145,996.62
