

Mía Arévalo is a 13-year-old Champ who belongs to the first class of Peru Champs, she is currently in 8th grade and studies at the Cercado campus of Innova Schools.

Mía lives with her grandmother and great-grandmother, who found out about the Peru Champs scholarships when she was just starting school. They encouraged her to apply and she got in. Mía is a Champ with a great talent for sports, she has been swimming since she was 3 years old. Initially she did it independently and then through clubs. When she was 6 years old, they discovered her potential and tried to prepare her to compete, but they had to wait until she was 8 years old, since this is the minimum age to compete. For 3 years Mía has been recognized by the national federation as a high performance athlete. In the last national tournament in 2019, she managed to win the national championship in the 400m freestyle, which allowed her to join the national team. Currently, she trains with the National Team and continues training with the Yaku Ukupi club to continue developing her talent. Mía is in 4th place at the international level. Mia is very devoted to practicing her sport, which has sometimes cost her to stop participating in some events. Mia's short term goal is to participate in the South American championship in Brazil, representing Peru and her school. In the long term, Mia dreams of making it to the Olympics and winning a gold medal. Mía is a Champ who seeks to give back to other people for all the support she has received, so she is always concerned about helping her classmates to succeed in their studies and is aware that she will always help boys and girls to have the same opportunities she managed to have.

Join in and help more kids of low resources with exceptional talents to have better opportunities through quality education.
