

THE ROOF OF DIGNITY

The Roof of Dignity is a sustainability program, which is aimed at the construction or restoration of houses for people living in extreme poverty.

TENIL JOSEPH FAMILY

The Tenil Joseph family was selected to participate in this program. The family reside in Monte Plata, north of Dominican Republic. Bayaguana municipality.

It's a family of four. They arrived from Haiti to the Dominican Republic more than 30 years ago, looking for a better life, they have the life, we are trying to make it better.

The father is currently engaged in agriculture. The mother is a housewife, The children attend school. Although the current state of the house is very bad it has no resources for its repair, so even its floor is made of earth. When there is storm season; living here becomes a Nightmare

The Tenil Family does not want a mansion, it just wants to make getting home the happiest time of the day; that the rain can stay out of his house.

Just lie down at night and look at the ceiling with dignity!
