

MICRO PROJECT

1. Project title

Support Cots and Beds facility for the Welfare of Oldage Poor Women

2. What will this Micro project change ?

Presently we have been running Old age Home for the welfare of grandparents since two years by the help of Philanthropists, humanitarians and local people. Due to paucity of funds, we are unable to provide decent bedding (Cots, Beds, Pillows, Blankets and mosquito nets etc) Hence, they are all sleeping on the floor and facing lot of problems to standup frequently, going for passing and excretory function. In addition to the above, the rainy season was started, so that there are so many problems ie., due to old age epidemic diseases of Cough, Fever and various type of communicable deceases have been started in this area, more than the above COVID-19 has been creating a terrific horrible atmosphere in Kurnool city and rural area. At this critical juncture, it is necessary safety and well protected bedding facility to the grandparents. Thus they will protect from Cold, COVID-19 and various type of epidemic diseases.

3. What problem will this project solve ?

Due to stream poverty and various reasons the grandparents left their houses as beggars, begging foods and alms in the Kurnool city in the main streets, filling their stomach dwelling besides for roads, bus stations, railway station before Churches and temples. Consequently, they were suffering from fever, cold; cough malaria, tiptoed and various types of communicable deceases. At this critical juncture, the Chief Functionary of Community Organising for Rural Upliftment Society (CORUS), Mr John Christopher and his team members made collective affords, identify the problem give counseling brought 30 grandparents from various places and admitted in the home, providing food, medical facility and other basic amenities to them

4. How will this micro project solve the problem ?

To this project decent and well protected bedding facility will be provided to the grandparents. Thus grandparents will be protected from cool weather, common communicable and various types of epidemic diseases.

5. Potential long term impact.

To this project 30 grandparents will be benefited, they will get food, shelter, decent bedding, medical facility and other basic facility. Consequently, they will be protected from all deceases, mental agony and humiliation, because of the Community Organising for Rural Upliftment Society is rendering meritorious services to the grandparents ie., means providing timely food, decent shelter, timely medical facility and other basic facilities to them. Thus, they are self confidence and self respect including a lot among the grandparents. In addition to the above by the affect of the project, there is possibility to bring change among the grandparents' families and public also. So, that the people will get a realization and feel responsibility, to the see the welfare of their parents come forward to provide donations and other donations in the shape of kind and cash. These type of moral change will be respected to this project in the society/ public.
