SPONSORING REFUGE

In choosing to sponsor Four Walls and a Roof and the mission to provide shelter for survivors of domestic abuse, you are supporting women as they rebuild their lives and reclaim their power. Women suffering in abusive environments all over the globe struggle to leave their violent relationships. The decision to leave an abusive home is made even more impossible by women's institutional and social disempowerment. Women without income, familial-societal support, or adequate resources have little hope in escaping abuse.

Without accessible and sustainable temporary housing, those privileged enough to leave their abusive homes are vulnerable to homelessness, prostitution, and premature death. It is with these realities in mind that we at Four Walls and a Roof understand our mission to be imperative. By becoming a sponsor of Four Walls and a Roof, you give the gift of hope to women suffering abuse. Your Sponsorship will help fund a sustainable women's shelter and center where survivors can live free of abuse in a supportive environment where they will benefit from education programs, skill training, and psychological and legal counseling as they reclaim their lives.

There's no better time to donate than today.

OUR MISSION
The mission of Four Walls and a Roof is to provide transitional and sustainable emergency housing for survivors of violence all over the globe.

THE COTACACHI PROJECT:
The Cotacachi Project was launched in the Spring of 2009 and has been Four Walls and a Roof's primary development project. The project seeks to establish a shelter for women survivors of domestic violence in the Andean community of Cotacachi in the Imbabura Province of Ecuador.

All FWAAR development projects are designed in collaboration with benefiting communities. Our sister organizations for the project in Cotacachi are La Coordinadora de Mujeres Urbanas, a feminist organization of indigenous and mestiza women and El Centro de Atencion a la Mujer, a local domestic violence organization providing direct service in legal and psychological counseling for battered women.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

VOLUNTEERING
Four Walls and a Roof offers many volunteer and internship opportunities. Volunteers gain valuable work experience researching grant opportunities, planning fundraisers, soliciting small business and corporate donations, and promoting FWAAR.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES
Four Walls and a Roof offers research opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students interested in non-profit management and sustainable international development. Student researchers can contribute to the development of the project and maintain our dedication to development that is empowering of beneficiaries and ecologically-wise.

DONATIONS
Four Walls and a Roof invites you to make one-time or recurring donations to our project through Global Giving www.globallgiving.org. All donations made through Global Giving are tax-deductible and can be made securely online.

ABOUT YOUR SUPPORT
As a sponsor of our Cotacachi Project your financial support will help to provide:

• A women's shelter built for sustainability via both eliminating negative environmental impact through skillful, sensitive ecological design and involving women residents in generating the financial sustainability to limit the need for continuous outside funding.

• Educational programs for women residents as they embark on the journey to reclaim their lives and their independence including: literacy, internet literacy, financial management, and technical skill training.

• Funding for programs and housing design that reflect a commitment to diversity, as well as, the specific needs of Andean indigenous women.

• Technology development and literacy training to aid in educational programming and support administrative development and infrastructure.

NON-MONETARY SPONSORSHIP
Sponsorships can include donations of space, resources, gift certificates, and other means of non-monetary support. If your organization cannot donate financially, but can offer support of another kind, FWAAR will work with you to determine the value of any non-monetary donations and the corresponding package.
