

THE PROJECT FOR FEEDING THE HUNGRY

The fact that the world produces more than enough food to feed the entire world (4 billion metric tons) and one-third of it gets wasted, leaving hundreds of millions of people hungry, is a tragedy.

High-income countries leave food on the plate, and low-and middle-income countries leave food in the field or lose it in production. This results in millions of malnourished children dying each year from a preventable cause.

Hunger and malnutrition create a self-sustaining barrier that keeps people stuck in poverty. Hunger makes it more difficult for a person to learn, work, pursue opportunities and contribute to society. It drains a person's energy, destroys mental acuity, and exacts a heavy price on health throughout his or her life.

Beginning with under-nutrition in fetal and early life and extending to long-term health problems such as stunted physical growth, coronary heart disease, stroke, and diabetes, malnutrition exacts an enormous cost in quality and length of life.

Keeping in mind, Prime Trust is trying to provide one meal every day to the poor, sick, aged, and children who do not have anything to eat. We identify those people in front of temples, churches and mosques, bus stations, and railway stations.

How Prime Trust will carry forward this project?

Prime Trust kept posters in all Community Halls where people celebrate their weddings and birthdays and requested to send excess food. We are serving it to the aged, sick, poor, and children after checking the quality.

We can't depend on free food all the time and we need to find out own arrangements to feed the hunger.
