

 116.944 people placed in the labor market

_Editorial

During November, we draw attention to the Giving Tuesday, an international movement created to promote generosity by connecting people with the causes that touch their hearts!

Rede Cidadã's mission is "to promote human and social development, for integration into the labor market, gathering companies, civil society and public authorities".

We welcome people in the most diverse situations of vulnerability and prepare them technically and emotionally to enter and remain in the job market. We believe that this is how they can achieve autonomy and dignity.

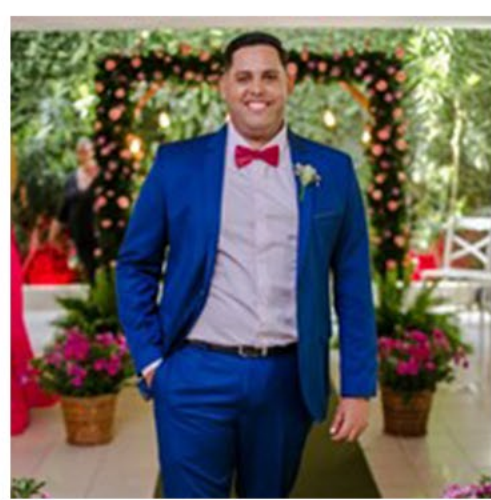

On this Giving Tuesday, come and join us in this network of kindness!

Just make a donation of any amount and you'll be helping us to train a lot of people for life and work!

_Words from those who have taken part

The Start program, which is a partnership between Rede Cidadã and the multinational Accenture, has already prepared thousands of vulnerable young people to work in the technology market, opening up a wide horizon of opportunities for them. HERE THERE'S a testimonial from one of them.

_An engaged company

The In Press Group is a Rede Cidadã's super partner and an example of commitment to the inclusion of diverse vulnerable audiences. In this month in which Black Awareness Day is also celebrated in Brazil, take a look at the testimony of one of its executives on how this issue has been dealt with in the organization. CLICK HERE

_Take part in this movement

Don't miss out on this global solidarity movement! Whatever the value of your donation, it will help to ensure that thousands of people in vulnerable situations have the chance to prepare themselves to enter the labor market and gain their autonomy and dignity.

Donate via Global Giving and get involved!
Donors are happier people, you know?
