In 2015, funded by ICRC, the center got furnished with heavier equipment & operated as a community kitchen serving underprivileged families. Later on, by a generous donation from Global Giving, the kitchen was equipped in early 2021 with high-end equipment providing 20,000 hot meals for 300 beneficiaries to ease the financial burden by combating COVID 19 economic impacts, after a specific vulnerability door-to-door assessment by AICA's team. With the aim of strengthening resilience among youth, AICA established a Digital Lab in 2021, from a Baladi Program in-kind grant implemented by Caritas Lebanon funded by USAID. In 2015, AICA provided SSCC to MoSA free of charge aiming to establish an SDC in the area. The center was assimilated by the ministry and legalizations were issued in this regard, but the operation has halted for four years therefore, AICA re-acquired the center & established a Community Center in 2019.

In 1954, AICA acquired a license for a free elementary school located between Tabbaneh and Jabal Mohsen with an average of 150 students/year. Since 2014, the school runs under the name of "Alduha Scientific School" at Fnaideq & has around 200 registered students/year with the potential of having 750 students per shift.

In partnership with the Lebanese Red Cross- Disaster & Risk Reduction Unit, the FRT was established in early 2016 as a risk response initiative for all that the community encountered. The team consists of: a team leader & FRT trainees certified by First Aid Response, DRR, firefighting, & COVID emergency response. Despite that this project was created in different areas around Lebanon, AICA's team was one of few to remain operating till the current date.
