After school education

After school education will help students realize their potential, supplement knowledge and to compensate skill gaps. CHHASE makes sure 1200+ under privileged & tribal children remain active, motivated, and happy during their time away from school. Educating the under privileged ultimately will make a change for whole family and future generations.

We promote academic success, pay school fees, school kit (School bag, note books, pen, pencil, geometry box, scale, color pencils etc) to under privileged and to tribal children. This project will ensure the children education without drop-out. Tribal children never go to school regularly. Their main requirement is food three times a day. If food is provided, they can able to attend school. Keeping their requirement in view, our society started tribal education school, which is an after school programme. This programme provides dinner to 241 tribal children.. Education instructors give them free tuition. To keep them hygienic, we provide New dresses, oil, soap etc. This programme also gives awareness to parents about child labor, skills training, income generating programs and health camps.
