Support the education of 40 women in Quito

Report - November 2023

Our School for Feminist Popular and Political Education moves along with 40 women who are in the process of writing based on their life experiences.

We have created focus groups, where we read texts aloud and comment, from our lived experiences, about their relevance for our lives.

Meet Elizabeth

Since joining the organization in 2019, Elizabeth has become a leader and is now coordinating a school inside the female prison in Cotopaxi.

“I want freedom for my childrens. I don't want wealth for them, I want them to learn what social justice and equity means. I want for them the freedom that I never had. And I'm not only speaking of physical freedom, but an emotional one”

Thank you for believing in our process!

In this module, we organized an encounter with one organization that works on human rights issues, and a second one that works with mothers who lost their children in prison massacres. We believe that exchanges of knowledge(s) are important for the growth and reflection of all of us.
