3. CHUNHUI CARE HOME PROGRAM STORY

Beibei is a four-year old boy born with congenital heart disease. When he first arrived at the Beijing Chunhui Care Home, he could not even speak. Mama Chen, his Chunhui Mama, began patiently teaching him how to talk, starting with simple words like "Mama" and "Auntie." Mama Chen often had to repeat the same word many times before Beibei would slowly imitate her. However, Mama Chen never gave up. Once, Beibei clearly called out "Mama." while clapping his hands, Mama Chen was excited, her eyes glistening with tears of emotion.

This June, Beibei was hospitalized for operation. During the pre-operative examinations, Beibei would hide fearfully behind Mama Chen. Whenever this happened, Mama Chen would hold him in her arms and gently encourage him to greet the doctors and nurses. Safely nestled in her warm embrace, Beibei gradually relaxed and began to greet them by himself.

After the surgery, Beibei lacked strength in his legs. Following the doctor's advice, Mama Chen helped him with walking exercises every day. Even when Beibei returned to the Chunhui Care Home for rehabilitation, he could not stand stably. In addition to the scheduled exercises, Mama Chen prepared nutritious meals for Beibei and ensured he took his medication on time and in the correct dosage. With Mama Chen's constant companionship and attentive care, Beibei gradually learned to stand steadily and walk well, and his physical condition kept improving..

Now, Beibei's wound has completely healed, and he has become increasingly lively. He loves drawing. Every time when he finishes a piece of artwork, he will pull Mama Chen over to see his works. And Mama Chen would praise him. Whenever this happens, Beibei's face will beam with a confident smile. Witnessing his transformation, Mama Chen feels really happy for being part of his growth journey.

Under Mama Chen's care, Beibei is like a thriving young sapling, steadily blossoming and shining in his own unique way. May Beibei continue to grow up healthy and happy, enveloped in the love and companionship of his Chunhui Mama.
