3. PROGRAM BENEFICIARY'S STORY

Qingqing is a girl almost two years old. She has congenital biliary atresia. In April 2025, after arriving at Beijing Chunhui Care Home, she underwent surgery at a hospital in Beijing and was discharged after recovering well under the devoted care of her Chunhui Mama. She is now continuing rehabilitation treatment at Beijing Chunhui Care Home to protect her liver and promote bile flow.

At Beijing Chunhui Care Home, Chunhui Mama ensures Qingqing to take medicines on time every day, prepares well-balanced meals for her, and plays with her. Qingqing's cheeks are gradually taking on a rosy glow these days, and her big eyes sparkle with life again.

Qingqing's favorite game is role play as a chef. She always holds a small spatula and mimicks stir-frying. She also brings over her "dishes" for Chunhui Mama to taste. When she hears praise like "Qingqing, you're amazing! This is delicious!", she would giggle and her eyes curve like sweet crescent moons. Moreover, her language and perceptual skills are developing quickly. She can now understand most of the daily conversations of Chunhui Mama and respond clearly in simple words, calling out "Mama", "Sister" and other words in a soft, sweet voice.

Qingqing is also well-behaved and often wants to help Chunhui Mama with daily chores. At mealtimes, she always tries to bring over her small table and chair. If something is too heavy to carry, she would softly call for Chunhui Mama's help and sits obediently on her little stool waiting for the meal.

Every small step of Qingqing is filled with the warm power of love. May Qingqing grow up safe and sound under Chunhui Mama's care and carry this love with her as she grows up happily.

Qingqing is recovering well at Beijing Chunhui Care Home.
