

PROJECT "Citizen Education and Road Safety" (2024)

EXECUTIVE OVERVIEW

Road safety culture is not only applied to vehicular traffic, but it is an attitude that must include all the areas involved. It is a comprehensive concept that addresses justice, victim support and counseling, family support, the health situation of seriously and seriously injured people, and building a culture of prevention through educational and dissemination actions.

To promote this culture of prevention, Fundación Emilia, together with its Citizen Education Area, has annually implemented cycles of workshops on "Citizen Education and Road Safety" in high school educational establishments, aimed at levels I to IV.

The workshops are implemented in these courses considering that the students are in an age range that is close to the possibility of acquiring driver's licenses or, in some cases, they already have and use them. Therefore, it is relevant to work with this public in order to generate awareness and good practices at the time of being present behind the wheel from the beginning of a work experience or from their daily practice.

The main purpose is to raise awareness through the dissemination of information on citizenship education, the risks and consequences of driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs, driving with reckless and excessive speed, as well as the impact caused by road accidents in the close circle of the victims. In this way, to sensitize school communities to form them as committed citizens and responsible for their behavior in public spaces.

PROJECT DEVELOPMENT

For the realization of this project, a variety of tasks related to the organization and management of the workshops will be carried out. First, contacts will be established with different school authorities and establishments in order to coordinate collaborations and ensure their participation in the implementation of the workshops. This networking is essential to obtain the necessary institutional backing, which increases the credibility and interest of potential participants. In addition, careful planning will involve strategic meetings. During these meetings, the proposal for the workshops will be presented in detail, its objectives will be outlined and its relevance for the students and professionals involved will be highlighted.

Thirdly, the 50 school workshops on "Citizenship Education and Road Safety" will be held at the coordinated levels, addressing issues of citizenship education, road safety, the effects of alcohol and drug consumption and legislative changes in the Emilia Law, ending with the evaluation of the impact of the activity in an exit survey.
