The potential beneficiaries of the Ramadan food package project are the most vulnerable fasting Muslims, hunger has stricken families living in Budaka, Butebo, and Mbale among the remote districts established in Eastern Uganda.

The people practiced cereal farming and cassava cultivation but due to unpredicted weather, rendered harsh conditions in their crops leading to loss and poor quality of production in the fast season of 2023. Furthermore, it was worsened in the second season as rainfall patterns shifted and planted seeds failed to germinate thus no harvest in the second season.

Nevertheless, the beneficiaries live united and in a God fearing life style but they are economically incapacitated. This is however, due to climate changes and limited resources especially and for optional utilization due to land fragmentation. These combinations in which the targeted beneficiaries are embroiled in and this has resulted into vicious cycle of poverty among communities. It was observed that many people in local leaders communities do not afford even to take their children to school due to lack of basic family necessities.
