251 new students actively engaged

5 local facilitators economically empowered

4 partner schools

4 Ghana Core Staff employed; 100% female

52% Girl Students- ensuring that girls education is at the forefront of learning.

88% increase in critical thinking, problem solving and understanding of SDG's

OVERVIEW

Together, we are enabling students to grow in confidence, learn about the world around them and gain relevant life skills to be critical thinkers and problem solvers for the 21st century.

It was incredible to see the continuation of these programmes during the first wave considering the logistics required to deliver in accordance with the requirements of the new academic calendar. Facilitators and students have bonded which is testament to the impact our programmes are making in supporting quality and relevant education. Students have played an active role since the beginning and have proved once again their ability to find creative lasting solutions, get curious and ability to reflect with their peers on further challenges.

We are pleased to say that this wave of programmes reached 251 students within the age range of 10 -15 years, it commissioned 5 facilitators to deliver and worked alongside 4 schools throughout the Ga West District.

THE SDG'S

Each month students use an SDG as learning tool to understand more about themselves and their impact within the world

Get Global

Get Local

We are a sailboat; not a speedboat.

At Move the World, we have a sailboat metaphor that we use to check ourselves and balance our expectations. We are a team of big dreamers and often feel like we don't "do" enough. We continue to learn that slow and steady wins the race and a team is needed to get you there.

However, despite storms and choppy seas, each year support from our fabulous donors helps to keep us afloat. We sincerely thank you for that.

This coming year, 2024/25, we are committed to ensuring our programme delivery continues to uphold the highest quality, to work alongside students to see the value and most of all the relevancy of their learning and their contributions

Thank you for your support - we truly value this partnership and appreciate your belief in the impact we make.
