Title or Subject of Report	Maternal & Child Nutrition in Char land, Bangladesh.
Project Report	At the Global Community Organization (GCO), we recognize the critical importance of ensuring special care, treatment, and nutritious food for mothers and children during pregnancy, particularly in marginalized areas. Our ongoing efforts focus on sensitizing expectant mothers to follow their doctor's advice, take prescribed medicines, maintain regular exercise, and consume a balanced, nutritious diet. This proactive approach aims to support the baby's health, ensuring a strong start to life post-delivery. In line with this mission, GCO assists families in cultivating nutritious vegetables and fruits in their backyards, empowering them with the knowledge of vitamins and minerals present in different fruits and vegetables. Our awareness campaign has reached around 50 women, educating them on the significance of proper nutrition during pregnancy, the role of a healthy diet in child development, and the necessity of adhering to medical guidance. So far, three families have benefited from receiving vegetable seedlings, production advice, and fertilizers, enhancing their ability to grow nutrient-rich food. Moreover, we have provided nutritious food to several destitute mothers and children. Although we have yet to receive support from Global Giving, we are hopeful that with funding, we can significantly expand our efforts. This will enable us to reach more families, provide comprehensive nutrition education and extend food support to mothers and children in need. At GCO, we are united in our commitment to building better lives for mothers and babies, ensuring their health, well-being, and brighter futures.
