Title or Subject of Report	Quarterly Report-07: Addressing Hunger Among Bangladesh's Elderly (64460)
Project Report	Global Community Organization's Project 64460, which started on January 1, 2025, aims to improve food security, health, and social protection for elderly people in Bagha Upazila of Rajshahi. The project seeks to ensure a dignified and sustainable life for senior citizens while creating a lasting positive impact on the local social infrastructure. During this quarter, the project continued its activities successfully and was implemented for the 6th consecutive time as part of its ongoing intervention framework. A detailed introductory meeting was held with the local administration to ensure transparency, coordination, and cooperation among all stakeholders. Work is also underway to develop a database application for monitoring the socio-economic and health status of elderly beneficiaries. Through the project initiatives, a total of 42 beneficiaries received support, including 11 senior citizens directly benefiting from the program. In addition, preparations are ongoing for the upcoming full implementation phase, including training for field-level TYAGI volunteers and staff members. These foundational activities are playing a vital role in ensuring the long-term success, continuity, and sustainability of the project.
