

Early Childhood Development Program

Global Giving - Interim Report

As the year draws to a close, the festive Christmas season brings a sense of excitement and accomplishment for the 104 children in our Early Childhood Development (ECD) program. With the holiday break fast approaching, the children are enthusiastically preparing for their annual Christmas presentation, a special event where they will showcase songs, dances and creative performances in front of their parents and the entire school staff. This celebration not only strengthens their confidence but also fosters a sense of community and pride in their achievements.

Throughout this period, the children continue to participate in a variety of enriching activities. Classroom learning is combined with festive arts and crafts, music practice, and storytelling to help them develop creativity, communication skills, and teamwork. For many, this is a joyful highlight of the year, offering opportunities to express themselves and celebrate their learning in a warm, supportive environment.

As we approach the transition into the new year, our older children are preparing for the important step of moving on to their final term in the program. Meanwhile, the younger ones continue to build a strong foundation in early literacy, numeracy, social skills, and emotional development. Our objective remains consistent: to provide a nurturing, stimulating, and holistic early childhood development experience grounded in our five core pillars: learning, protection, nutrition, hygiene and sanitation, and health.

The commitment of our donors continues to play a central role in the success of our program. Their support enables us to maintain a safe learning environment, strengthen our teaching team, and ensure the children have access to quality learning materials and nutritious meals each day. Every contribution helps us uphold the standard of care that allows children from rural and disadvantaged communities to learn, thrive, and dream boldly.

As we celebrate this festive season, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to all who support our mission. Together, we are giving each child the opportunity to grow with confidence and step into the future with hope.
